Return of absentee ballots cast in the general election Tuesday closed out at 5 p.m. Wednesday and the office of County Clerk J. H. Green reported Thursday a total of 1,166 absentees were voted.

The absentee total, however, cannot affect any of the local contests in which the Democrats registered a clean sweep. Closest county race was between incumbent assessor Jerry Trotter and GOP challenger Carl Meyer, but Trotter gained a 1,797 vote edge — well above the absentee total.

The absentee total included 913 regular absentee ballots and 253 service men's ballots.

Also to be counted Friday with the absentees are 75 presidential short ballots cast by newcomers to Pettis County ineligible to vote for local candi-

A Little Ballot That's Big

Fully expected to be heard by election workers at the polls Tuesday will be the question: "What's this little ballot all about?"

This little ballot is important. Its title is "Judicial Ballot" in big black letters. Its purpose is to permit the electorate to vote for or against retention of two Supreme Court Judges: S. P. Dalton and Lawrence Holman.

In effect this is a significant function of Missouri's Non-Partisan Court Plan in the General Election which is currently endorsed by Ethan Campbell, Republican State Chairman, and Dalton L. Houtchens, Democratic State Chairman.

Twenty-four years ago the citizens of Missouri took their judges "out of politics" by adopting a Constitutional Amendment that established the Non-Partisan Court Plan.

Twice since then, Missouri has reaffirmed its belief in this plan for retaining our higher court judges in office on the basis of their records alone. In 1942, voters defeated an Amendment for repeal of the plan by an even greater margin, and in 1945 they gave strong approval once more by adopting the new State Constitution which included the plan.

The Non-Partisan Court Plan has been held up as a model throughout the nation, and has been adopted by other states. In essence, the plan operates as follows: The Governor appoints new judges from panels of nominees submitted by a non-partisan judicial commission of lawyers and laymen. After a trial period and also as their terms expire, the judges are listed on the Judicial Ballot so that voters may decide whether the judges should be retained in office. The same procedure of appointment is followed when a judge is rejected by the voters, or when a vacancy occurs through death or retirement. The judges run only on the basis of their records, and voters indicate "yes" or "no"-for or against keeping the judges in office.

This newspaper joins the two party chairmen and members of the Missouri Bar in urging the people not to ignore the Judicial ballot by casting it aside when they go to the polls Tuesday to vote for candidates for public office on the regular ballot.

The Judicial Ballot should be marked. Otherwise there may be established an appearance of disinterest on the part of the public in the functioning of the Non-Partisan Court

Missouri cannot afford to have this plan become ineffectual through public indifference. That is why it is so imperative to give the plan continued stature by voting the Judicial Ballot each time it is submitted for the consideration of the voters.

Johnson Likely To Carry Kansas

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson today continues to report from his political survey of the United States.)

By DREW PEARSON EN ROUTE-Most amazing phenomenon of this election is the probability that Lyndon Johnson, a southerner, will carry the Republican Civil War-torn state of Kansas. This is a state which fought the battles of John Brown and abolition long after John Brown was mouldering in his grave, a state where I spent some time in my youth listening to a staunch Republican grandfather vow that Kansas would never go Democratic. It hasn't since 1936 but it probably will next week.

Reason for Kansas' waywardness today is chiefly its political isolation and worry over Barry Goldwater's haphazard statements about getting us into war.

Such statements "I'll have to admit that possibly I shoot from the hip," made to Der Spiegel during the San Francisco convention, or his Salt Lake City statement last May 5, "I don't want to hit the moon, I want to lob one right into the men's room of the Kremlin and make sure I hit it," are among those that have made Republican midwest voters run to the Democratic bomb shelters.

It explains also why Barry's staff pulled backstage wires to get the dramatic nuclear war movie "Fail Safe" sidetracked until after the election. The film shows a bombing of Moscow-by mistake.

As Kansas voters know, in contrast the GOP platform adopted under Goldwater's eye at San Francisco called for the abolition of the "hot line" between Washington and Moscow to prevent accidental war. Papers Split

The Kansas trend toward Johnson began last summer with the editorial support of a publisher who has supported Republicans since the days of U. S. Grant-Jack Harris of the Hutchinson News.

This was followed by an unusual split among Kansas newspapers - about fiftyfifty - between Johnson and Goldwater. Usually there is about one Democratic paper in the entire state, that of John Montgomery, publisher of the Junction City Union, now running for Congress in the second district with a good chance of winning. Montgomery is called "Mr. Kansas"

Goldwater hasn't been helped in Kansas by his campaign oratory. Editor John Mc-

Cormally of the Hutchinson News said: "Goldwater is even funnier when he is trying to be serious than he is when he's trying to be funny. But because you suspect he's serious, you can't laugh.' And the GOP candidate for governor, William Avery, also hasn't helped Barry much. Bill has been a Kansas Congressman for a long time, a faithful, unspectacular follower of the right. Nobody much even bothered to examine Bill's congressional record when he was merely running for the House. But in the statewide campaign it's different.

Today voters find that Avery voted against practically every piece of legislation that would benefit small farmers, plus some that would benefit big farmers.

He voted against the wheat-cotton bill which added an extra $400 million income to the 1964 wheat crop; against the food stamp act, the voluntary feed grain bill, against extension of the sugar act, the emergency feed grain bill, against antipoverty, against the public works bill and against rural electrification, although 91,000 Kansas farm families share in the REA program.

Damned By A Dam

But Avery's most interesting vote of all was against the now popular Tuttle Creek Dam, built to prevent catastrophic Kansas floods in his own district. This project has become so valuable that two weeks ago Avery suddenly reversed himself and made a statement in the Congressional Record trying to claim credit for the dam.

His statement was made of course as his past record was beginning to catch up with him, but in 1955 (June 16) he was almost tearful in urging Congress to vote the other

"Mr. Chairman, I spoke to the committee yesterday on my objections to Tuttle Creek in my district of Kansas," he said. "I plead with you today that this appropriation be deleted, at least for this session of Con-

And when the next session rolled around. Avery was right back with his blocking

"My position in regard to the construction of Tuttle Creek is the same as it has been ever since its original authorization in 1938,"

Now that the dam is built and Bill is running for governor, hindsight is better than foresight and he claims credit for it.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q - What are some of the disease in which the pancreas symptoms of colitis? Can anything be done for it? A - The commonest form of colitis - mucous colitis - is characterized by the passage of loose stools that contain recognizable mucus. There are also frequent cramps that travel from side to side throughout the abdomen, a good deal of abdominal gurgling, heartburn and an excessive amount of gas in the bowels. It is often impossible to relieve this condition until the underlying tensions and conflicts are resolved. Meanwhile, the victim will be more comfortable if he cuts out all bran, cooked and raw vegetables and fruit, nuts, jams and concentrated sweets. On such a diet it is necessary to take vitamin supplements. A short course of tranquilizers may also help.

Q - My husband has been drinking heavily for several years. He gets pains in his back. Will alcohol affect his pancreas?

A — Although alcohol, if taken to excess, has an adverse effect on the brain and liver there is no evidence that it is the direct cause of any disease in other organs including the pancreas. Before the discovery of insulin, alcohol was widely used

Q - My husband has a whitish ring on the outside of the iris of his eyes. His sight is good. What causes the ring and is it serious?

A — This condition is known as arcus senilis because it is seen chiefly in people of advanced age. It occasionally occurs, however, in persons in their early 30's. It is more common in men than in women. The ring is caused by deposits of cholesterol and once formed it cannot be removed. The condition is not serious as it does not affect the sight and does not indicate hardening of the

The second issue is inextricably tied up with the first and voters can't separate them. Which of the candidates, Johnson or Goldwater, can better be trusted with running the government and all that means in domestic problems, foreign dilemmas, and no doubt some On top of them Goldwater added these as issues: Bobby Baker, Billie Sol Estes, South Viet Nam, "waning U.S. prestige around the world," nation's whole foreign policy, morality in government, peace, corruption in government, the choice between "socialism and individual freedom."

But there were more: control of nuclear weapons, handling NATO, the United Nations, Cuba, Castro, dealings with communism, spending, space development, plane development, American defenses, Red China, Americans for Democratic Action, civil rights, agri-

At first Democrats made their big pitch on Goldwater's "extremism." This was, in effect, a personal attack on him and it has remained a consistent Democratic tactic which got under his skin. But Goldwater has consistently made personal attacks on Johnson.

Johnson through it all, perhaps because from the beginning he felt sure of winning or because the polls convinced him by showing him away out in front month after month, has used a fast brush when it came to any serious or detailed discussion of most of what Goldwater considered issues.

Johnson apparently didn't think it necessary to lay out new programs, at least in understandable detail. Goldwater was just as vague on this score. All the while, the Democrats kept needling Goldwater, and they are doing it now, with the suggestion he is trigger happy. He bought the bait and has used up a lot of his time denying he is. Now, near the very end they're doing what they've been doing all along: attacking each other personally.

They're not spending much time any more on nuclear triggers or Viet Nam or NATO or Cuba. What they've been saying in the past few days speaks for Johnson is picturing Goldwater as too reckless for the presidency and says the real issues are all the programs Goldwater has voted against, like the Civil Rights Act, the nuclear test-ban treaty, low income housing, and so on.

Goldwater is whirling around the country calling Johnson arrogant, power-hungry, selfish and a "little loose with the truth," and warning that to follow the say of Johnson would be "national suicide." He says, without saying how, "We must chart a new course of peace and freedom" and, as he has from the beginning, is charging corruption in government and calling for morality

No wonder it has been a gummy, unenlightening campaign with both candidates laying out their case on a level more fit for kids than adults, which is hardly a tribute by either candidate to the American intelligence. The voters deserve better than they've been getting.

DEAR POLLY - This is an answer concerning the removal of hard water deposits on Evelyn's shower door. Mineral matter which makes water "hard" is soluble in acids, the cheapest of which is vinegar. Several full strength applications of vinegar to wash the door may be

Good Retail Trade Year From Merchants Group

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer NEW YORK (AP) — This is an extraordinarily good year for retail trade.

That's the report from J. Gordon Dakins, executive vice president of the National Retail Merchants Association, which has a membership of 14,750 department and retail stores across the country. Total retail sales held up well despite the inroads of the General Motors strike which saw new car sales fall 23 per cent in the middle 10 days of October. earlier. Dakins estimated that 1964 retail sales would amount to more than $260 billion up from $246.4 billion last year. For department stores alone, he figures that the 1964 gross would approximate $17.9 billion, up 7 per cent from $16.8 billion

The association is engaged in its annual survey of Christmas season prospects, and Dakins said: "We feel Christmas sales should be up 5 per cent over 1963, which was outstanding."

Merchants report that their cash registers are ringing up higher profits this year. This, they say, is due to the fact that volume has increased, people are buying more expensive goods and the average sales check has grown.

In addition, many merchants have increased their efficiency of operations and are able to carry smaller inventories through use of computers which enable them to keep a closer check of stocks on hand.

A look at figures released by large retail chains indicates the scope of the business expansion. These include Sears, Roebuck & Co., the nation's largest with 770 stores and 1,092 catalogue sales offices; Montgomery Ward & Co., and J. C. Penney Co.

Sears' sales rose 12.5 per cent in September to $509,330,183 from $452,553,814 a year earlier. For the first eight months of the fiscal year which began Feb. 1 the chain's sales totaled $3,817,940-478, an increase of $416,836,595, or 12.3 per cent over the like period of 1963.

Montgomery Ward reported September sales as $125,574,000, a net gain of 10.1 per cent over $114,083,163 a year earlier. The 1964 eight-month total fo $1,052,-685,000 represented an increase of 13.3 per cent over $929,258,828

Penney said sales in September climbed 15.2 per cent to $169,096,981 from $146,850,262 in September 1963, while the total for the eight months ended Sept. 30 amounted to $1,213,722,949, up 13.4 per cent over $1,070,265,737 in the same period a year

Privilege Not a Convenience

Any more information on candidates for public office and issues between now and election day—Tuesday -will have about as much effect on the electorate as a blow torch on an elephant's head, like we saw the other night on Steve Allen's TV program.

What may be produced Monday by character assassins will be a waste of time for the authors. The public is now accustomed to such tactics and very properly discounts them. Even Halloween itself at the expiration of October didn't produce smears comparable to the political daubing that has been going on the past few months.

Voters have made their decisions -some based on a careful study of men and issues, some based on party loyalty, some on the way a candidate smiles, some on the tone of a candidate's voice. Inclusive with these reasons is the impediment of separating fact from fiction. As might be expected in this election, as in almost any, prejudiced opinions have developed among many by virtue of listening to a favorite commentator verbally draw an acceptable image.

In other instances voters are persuaded to follow the polls. Contrariwise, those with a disbelief in the accuracy of polls remind their friends of what O. Henry said: "A straw vote only shows which way the hot air than any other, comments have been heard to the effect that many persons are so disenchanted by the two presidential candidates they do not intend to vote at all.

Any such determination by man or woman qualified to vote becomes a repudiation of the fundamental act of self-government. This was emphasized by the President's Commission on Registration and Voting in its report last fall, noting that only 63.8 per cent of eligible voters bothered to go to the polls in 1960: "Voting . . . provides the citizen in our free society the right to make a judgment, to state a choice, to participate in the running of his government . . . the citizen who does not vote relinquishes the opportunity to govern."

The old cliche: "what difference does my one vote make?" still persists although abundant and valid statistical information is available to prove that one vote in many instances makes a lot of difference. Councilmen, mayors, legislators have been elected by one vote majority. That happened to a former Arizona councilman now running for president.

The opportunity to govern, offered on election day Tuesday, is more than a temporary convenience. It is a privilege that must be protected, a right that must not be relinquished if self-government in this country is to be preserved.

Highly Inflated Campaign Charges

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — As this vituperative presidential election drags to a close, here are some facts regarding certain controversies which have highlighted the campaign. They pertain to Republicans, because it's the Republicans who have been flooding the airways with charges.

Security Risk Jenkins? - Col. Walter Jenkins was a member of the famous 9999th Air Force Reserve Squadron commanded by Maj. Gen. Barry Goldwater, which included various senators, congressmen, and administrative assistants on Capitol Hill. The squadron not only took annual junkets abroad as alleged "training flights" at the taxpayers' expense, but also scheduled meetings about once a week on Capitol Hill.

At these meetings classified information was discussed. At no time did Gen. Goldwater demur at Col. Jenkins attending these meetings, nor did he protest the very high ratings given Jenkins - despite Gen. Goldwater's current protests that Jenkins was a dangerous security risk.

Who Paid For Smear Books? - The Republican National Committee has been steadfast in its denials that it has had any connection with the smear books which have flooded the nation against President Johnson. However, the committee's confidential vouchers for July show a $1,000 payment to Frank Kluckhohn, who wrote two of the anti-Johnson books - "The Inside on LBJ" and "Lyndon's Legacy."

Kluckhohn collected another $1,000 from the Right-Wing Americans for Constitutional Action.

Kluckhohn was dropped by the New York Times after a career in Mexico and Argentina, more recently has been a crusader for Rev. Billy Hargis's Christian Crusade.

Crime and Morality - The chief GOP expounder of morality and denouncer of crime is throwing stones from a glass house.

His home, Phoenix, has the fourth highest crime rate in the nation, and Barry spent some years as a member of the City Council. Crime prevention is the responsibility of cities — not the federal government. Washington can intervene only where interstate crime is involved.

On Feb. 5, 1954, a Chinese citizen of Arizona, George K. Jue, was convicted of bribing a Hong Kong vice consul to obtain fraudulent visas. Jue peddled phony passports for $300 each, phony visas for $1,500 each. After serving in the federal pen at Florence, Ariz., he faced deportation back to China. But the accommodating senator from Arizona stepped in with a private bill to save him. Jue is still in the United

GM's Lobbyist

General Motors executives, most of them supporting Johnson, don't know that their political scout is a strong and secret backer of Barry Goldwater.

You can't blame GM executives for not knowing, because only Goldwater's top aides are hep to Gordon Hall and are trusted with his unlisted home phone number (TR-1-3739). But behind the scenes, Hall has been a confidant, consultant, and ghost writer for the senator.

Hall also arranged for Goldwater to buy his famous Sting Ray sports car at a discount and obtained a company car at a discount for Goldwater's aide on the Senate Labor Committee, Michael J. Bernstein.

Hall divides his time between Washington and his home in the Bloomfield Hills suburb of Detroit. Reached on the long distance phone, Hall at first claimed he had been keeping away from Goldwater since the presidential boom, then admitted he was a confidential campaign adviser.

"I agreed to be an adviser," he said, "but they haven't asked me for any advice." But he keeps in touch with what is going on at the Republican National Committee, he admitted, through a researcher named Pam Rymer.

Hall denied that he helped Goldwater write his book, "Why Not Victory?", but quickly say that there is no nial powers, of deliberately help- isolationist seems to have won he admitted writing speeches for the senator. Sometimes he works in Goldwater's Senate office, though on General Motors'

"The Senator was riding down the street in his Thunderbird, and the wheel rolled off," explained Hall. "He decided to switch to a Sting Ray.'

The General Motors executive would not say how much of a discount Goldwater got, but admitted the price was below the market value. "I got the car off the proving ground," he explained.

Hall also admitted he arranged for Bernstein, who handles labor legislation for Goldwater, to buy a company car at belowmarket cost. General Motors has an interest, of course, in labor legislation.

Four Sedalia boys, students at Central Missouri State Teachers College, lost most of their possessions in a rooming house fire. They were Lee Dow, Robert Wilson, Porter Robb and C. O. Green. Dow and Wilson were in the two-story frame house when fire broke out. They escaped with 16 other roomers. Dow, the son of Ralph Dow, Route 5, Sedalia, was awakened by screams. Finding the hallway filled with flames he jumped from a second story porch.

I love to watch the sky,

Great arch, boundless and high,

Oh, massive canvas on which God doth paint, Sunrises gray and pink Etched in as if by ink,

Wee hours when dawn begins and light is faint; I love the sky at noon, It's like a merry tune,

When brightly stands the sun direct above, I love the twilight, too, With it's soft purple hue

The twilight hour and calling of the dove; I love the sunset bright That's just before the night

When all the west becomes a mass of gold; I love the velvet dark The first star's shining spark As I now watch the night gently unfold;

I love the clouds-like smoke-With gray the sky they cloak And give a warning that a storm is near,

Clouds that bring rain or snow I watch from down below The beauty of the lightning that we fear;

A Lutheran leader, Dr. James Scherer, underscores the same predicament, indicating the inability of many foreign missionaries to give guidance to control or to guide the mighty revolutionary forces unleased in the world.

"In Asia and Africa the existence of younger churches represents only a partial, though by no means inconsequential, effect of the preaching of the gospel. Often, these churches give the appearance of conservative institutions wedded to the status quo and clinging to cherished securities. . . The kingdom of prime ministers and ambas- God contracts to a narrow ecsadors. Said the priest: "The clesiastical world, its horizon extending no farther than church work."

A few such voices and the the day. But is this the answer? That isn't what these understanding and perceptive leaders are saying. They insist that the new world revolution demands that we be as creative and dedicated as the gospel we preach. It's really not a matter of deciding whether or not we're going to send something! Or send ourselves!

We're shocked when we learn that 38 residents watch the rape of a young woman and refuse to do anything about involving themselves in the tragedy. Yet there are always those who act as though we could do that for our world, standing about satisfying our own hungers, or slamming the door on any involvement, while we kid ourselves into thinking that we're safe in our "apartment house" of this continent.

We've made mistakes but that doesn't release us from involvement, either in our neighborhoods or in the larger community of this planet. So it's a time to re-examine our attitudes, our goals and our strategy of action. It's no time to run for the hills.

Centuries ago a murderer could ask. "Am I my brother's keeper?" Christ underscored another dimension of the same question when he told of a man crossing cultural and racial lines to help a fellow human being. That's the reality to refurbish now.

There are tough new problems confronting men of faith and there are troublemakers stirring up angry voices everywhere. It's enough to make a person say, "Let's stay home." Yet our world is our home. It's not ours to discuss results. It's ours to reflect our faith. The rest is not our business!

Inflamed Chaffed Areas Susceptible to Infection

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Association

- What causes the dermatitis that comes under the breasts, in the groin and in the seat? What is the best treatment?

A - Chafing may occur wherever two moist skin surfaces rub together. Persons who are fat have the most trouble with it but it may occur in anyone. Once the chafed areas become inflamed they are susceptible to local infection, especially with ringworm or some other fungus. This may keep the dermatitis going indefinitely.

In general, treatment consists in keeping the area clean and dry and free of irritants. For this purpose your doctor may want to use a solution of aluminum acetate or bichloride of mercury applied for 30 to 60 minutes then gently dried. Calamine lotion with phenol and menthol may then be applied to relieve the itching and a dusting powder or zinc stearate powder will help keep the area dry.

The inflamed area is made worse by overtreatment with solutions that are irritating or are too strong, so have your doctor advise you before you use anything on these areas. If he finds evidence of a fungus infection he may want to use a completely different line of treatment.

Q - What causes hemosiderosis? Can it be cured?

A - This condition is due to a deposit of hemosiderin, a blood pigment, in the tissues. It is found in persons with longstanding heart disease with waterlogging, pernicious anemia, excessive intake of iron in drugs or in the diet, or prolonged use of a low-protein low-phosphaze diet. The treatment would depend entirely on the cause.

Q - My daughter has a hanging light over her dining room table with a 150-watt bulb. The glare makes my eyes smart. Both her children have headaches and trouble with their eyes. Could improper lighting be the cause?

A - Improper illumination can certainly cause headache and eyestrain. Although they are not the only causes they could well be an important factor in the cases you mentioned. Lighting engineers have worked out many improvements in the last 4 years. The light from an unshielded bulb should never strike your eyes directly. It should come to you through a white shade or, better yet, through indirect lighting.

Furthermore, it should be softened by coming from two or more souces in the same room. When this is done there will be no harsh contrasting lights and shadows and the light from even a 150-watt bulb will cause no irritating glare.

The two new Republicans -Paul J. Fannin of Arizona and George Murphy of California have not checked in for a look around. Nor has Democrat Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland.

After an informal meeting with the four who visited the capitol, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the Democratic newcomers in the 'class of '65" are a "distinguished addition to the party."

"We're here to get instructed," grinned Bass, adding each received some "sage advice" from Mansfield.

They also got a word of greeting from President Johnson and Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey by telephone from the President's ranch in Texas. "They talked so long, I was beginning to worry about the turned up to warm the stew of a highway project that has been cooking for some time.

At a conference in Little Rock of 160 representatives from Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana, the I-29 Interstate association was organized to promote extension of that route from Kansas City to New Orleans. An important purpose will be to provide access to recreational areas of Arkans-

The improvement would follow a path south from Kansas City in the vicinity of Harrisonville, southeast along Route 7 to Clinton where it would intersect and follow Highway 13 south through Bolivar, to Springfield; thence to Branson in Missouri; continuing to Little Rock, Alexandria, Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

The new organization intends to work hard for this project.

Something of more immediate concern to Sedalia and surrounding area in Central Missouri is what is in store for Highway 65 south to Warsaw. Will this route be widened or made into a double lane? How long before this 32-mile stretch of concrete becomes overtaxed by regular and tourist traffic?

Sedalia is a focal point for traffic flowing from the east, west and

A burner on the stove has been north into southbound route 65 to the Lake of the Ozarks and back again. This traffic through here offers some potential to Sedalia's economic welfare.

Now the Kaysinger dam project is getting under way. Construction workers will add to the traffic movement, and ultimately so will those who will seek out the recreational attractions above the dam when completed.

If I-29 enthusiasts can effect an organization for the accomplishment of its purpose to provide a modern highway to attract tourists to recreational areas in Arkansas, would it not be feasible for Sedalians to become active in a movement to encourage the Missouri State Highway department to initiate or step up a program to modernize Highway 65 from Sedalia to Warsaw. We should attract tourists to Missouri's recreational areas also by building adequate highways for their safety and convenience.

Time is of the essence. Let's not wait until it is out of joint before stirring our stumps to do something about rejuvenating old Highway 65, south — not only for the tourists but the thousands who come regularly from south of us to do their shopping in Sedalia.

He suggested getting rid of the graduated income tax, selling TVA, making Social Security voluntary, pulling the government out of public housing and power, eliminating farm price supports and many social welfare programs, and cutting veterans' benefits.

By voting against the civil rights bill before the campaign began he lost the vote of most American Negroes. Yet, to win, he needed the vote of every individual he could find.

It was before he was a candidate, needing votes, that he felt free to make such statements. They established him as a rugged individualist, although he was a millionaire, and endeared himself to the right wing in American politics. But when he became a candidate in need of votes he softpedaled much he had said before or fogged it with vagueness. He made only two specifically constructive proposals: cutting taxes and ending the

He made some statements on how he'd handle foreign affairs but he later soft-pedaled them in order to overcome the charge of irresponsibility tacked on him by the Democrats. He even gave voters cause to question his ability to run the country - just a few weeks before announcing his candidacy - by raising that question himself about himself. In an interview in McCall's magazine he was quoted: "Doggone it, I'm not even sure that I've got the brains to be the president of the United States."

All these were major mistakes but he made others, one of the worst at the Republican convention dominated by Goldwaterites. There former President Eisenhower condemned extremism.

Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York pleaded with the convention to put a plank in the platform condemning extremism. Romney was ignored, Rockefeller booed.

And in his acceptance speech Goldwater defended extremism. This helped split the party more. It was never forgotten and later, realizing what he had done, Goldwater tried to back away from the statement.

On top of everything else he made a kind of empty campaign. He criticized the Democrats but was dim on what he'd do himself. Despite all this, he still can't believe he and his hand-picked team made any big

'Experimental' Drinking

by Mrs. Muriel Lawrence, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I smelled liquor on my son's breath when he came home from a party last night. He is 16. When I asked him if he had been drinking, he lied. If my husband knew this, God knows what would happen. I don't dare tell him. His father was an alcoholic and my husband has never touched liquor himself or allowed it in the house...

ANSWER: Your husband's son is not his father. I am sorry that his resentment at his father's weakness is still so undigested that he cannot know the difference between a 16-yearold's experimental drinking and the compulsive addiction of his alcoholic father.

It leaves you alone to perceive this difference, doesn't it? If you can't perceive it alone, get a psychiatrist to help you see it.

Your son is too young to drink, but because we've mixed up his experimental drinking with his grandfather's we mustn't overwhelm him with the resentful accusations that belong to his grandfather. It's just possible that his drinking is his attempt plores its other offerings.

to prove that he is not his grandfather - that he, in his own identity can take liquor or leave it alone. If we pile up on him the shaming accusations which belong to his grandfather, he may drink harder in order to more strongly assert his difference from this relative you all remember with such horror.

It is to prevent this that I suggest your getting help from a psychiatrist. When our stomachs are disordered, we ask a physician to straighten them out. When our feelings become too disordered to manage ourselves, we ask a psychiatrist to help us straighten them out. Then we can not only stop afflicting a child with inappropriate responses to his actions but can stop tormenting ourselves with extravagant anx-

It is impossible for us to see the real meaning of a child's action if the action arouses in us such a tumult of threatening visions as your son's drinking has aroused in you. We can see only the coming agonies, the suspense and humiliations inflicted upon us by the alcoholic relative who made any kind of drinking terrible to us.

Under such circumstances, we cannot deal rationally or wisely with the youngster who has explored the liquor which exists in the world as he ex-

Q - A few months ago I had cannot be purchased "over the counter. five X-ray treatments for bursitis of the shoulder. They cured my bursitis but almost immediately afterward I lost my sense of taste. Could the treatments have caused this? A - In most persons who complain of a loss of taste it is the sense of smell that has been lost. Taste per se, which is appreciated by the tongue, is limited to sweet, sour, salty and gerous level. This preparation bitter. This sense may be lost in diseases of the tongue or the nerves that supply it. The "taste" of flavors is lost in diseases of the nose or olfactory nerve. X-ray treatments to your shoulder would not cause either of these sensory losses.

Q - My doctor is giving me Rautrax-N for high blood pressure. Does it have any side effects and can it be bought without a prescription?

A - Rautrax-N is a combination of rauwolfia and a diuretic. The combination allows for a lower effective dose of both drugs and this lessens the chances of undesirable side effects. It should not be taken by persons with severe kidney disease.

Q - I am taking Salutensin

to bring my blood pressure down. Does it have any side

A - This preparation, like Rautrax, is a combination of a diuretic, reserpine (a rauwolfia derivative) and protoveratrine. By combining these drugs it is possible to keep the dose of each of them well below a danshould not be used, however, with digitalis and if you have frequent skipped beats. Hollywood's liberals still were shaking their heads today over how George Murphy danced off with the U.S. senatorship in the face of the Johnson landslide. They had refused to take the exhoofer seriously - until election results late Tuesday night indicated he had scored a victory over Pierre Salinger.

In the beginning, hardly any-one believed Murphy could make a serious bid for the Senate. When he came for an interview at the Brown Derby earlier this year, a friend remarked: "You may even win the Republican primary.'

"I'm not only going to win the primary," Murphy replied: "I'm going to win the general election in November.' His friend smiled and chalked up the remark to Murphy's indominable optimism. Now he is Sen.-elect George Murphy of California.

The campaign brought more activity from show people than any statewide election in recent times. The "People for Pierre" traveled through the state with their candidate and appeared on television. BROADWAY LANES Nebraska is favored over Kansas, and rightly so. The Huskers are ranked No. 5 nationally, own the best defensive record in the nation at 136.3 yards and are nursing a 14-game winning streak, longest current string in the country. The game will draw a capacity 44,900 crowd.

Kansas has a game-breaking runner in Gale Sayers. The Jayhawks have averaged 249 yards on the ground since fullback Ron Oelschlager came off the injury list and Bob Skahan took over at quarterback with the first league game. Skahan has a st 22-for-37 passing record and runs

But the Jayhawks can't handle the Husker defense, especially with two starting offensive linemen out, and the Kansas defense will have trouble with backs like Kent McCloughan, Bob Hohn and Bob Churchich.

Colorado has lost three games by margins of two, three and four points. Eddie Crowder's club is almost as tough as Missouri on defense but its attack has been hampered by lack of a goal-line punch, plus some bad breaks.

IS CHIROPRACTIC NEW?

Is it true that chiropractic which deals primarily with the nerve system with relat-ionship to the spine is some-thing new? the answer of course is NO.

Healing by various forms of manipulation is actually very old and also universal. It is told that the Indians of America and people in Europe many years ago let little children walk up and down the adult spine in an endeavor to get relief from their misseries. Hippocrates, known as the Father of Medicine in ancient time, warned that "One or more vertebrae may go out of place, and if may go out of place, and if they do they are likely to produce various complications or even death if not adjusted properly". Thus such men as Hippocrates (460-370 B.C.) and Galen (130-200 A. D.) used crude forms of manipulation. Descriptions of these methods are also to be found in the ancient manuscripts of ancient manuscripts of the Egyptians, Hindus and Chinese. Such manipulation was far from the specific, localized spinal adjustments discovered by D. D. Palmer dating back to 1895. Moreover Dr. Palmers realization that nerve interference and not some other derangement, lay at the root of disease was entirely new as, of course was the name taken from the Greek words meaning done by the hand.

Is it true that chiropractic is the largest drugless healing art known to man?

It is true. Today with the tremendous advancements that have been and are being made through constant chirmade through constant chiropractic research, millions of people the world over are finding that other methods of healing which have accomplished so much in many ways are also failing in many respects and are turning to chiropractic for the answer to their health problems.
